SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Several weeks, perhaps months ago, we enjoyed sitting in on a meeting of the Truckee Sanitary Board during which many things were proposed to make Truckee a cleaner and a better appearing town. Among the suggestions which apparently appealed all the members and which resulted in virtual promise was that of procuring new debris collection cans for the main street to replace the present inadequate "toy bank" type now in use which are about as nice appearing as the debris strewn about them. It was propsed to install the more modern, swing-top cans which invite users to keep the streets clean and which in themselves offer a pleasing appearance. Since that meeting we have patiently awaited the installation of the cans. None has appear. We wonder if they will.

That San Francisco man who paid $100 for having four limits of trout in his possession should offer good and sufficient reason for not violating the fish and game laws, but it seems odd that he went all the way to Sacramento before being apprehended. Maybe a good game warden or so up here wheer they are really needed might result in more arrests. And after all we were promised a warden or were we?

Don't succumb to the glib-tonuged peddler until after you have taken his story up with the Chamber of Commerce. He may be a fake.

LOCAL PEOPLE AT ANNUAL MEETING OF P. T. A. CONGRESS

Rev. and Mrs. Everett were among the 3000 delegates who attended the 39th annual convention, California Congress of Parents and Teachers Inc., held in San Francisco May 23 to 27.

VISITORS' NIGHT AT LIONS CLUB DRAWS BIG ATTENDANCE

It was visitors night at the meeting of the Truckee Lions Club last night with 17 guests and 19 members being present to enjoy the program.

Albert D. Ayres, Reno attorney, was one of the principal speakers and among other things discussed the proposal of incorporating Truckee and praised the Lions here for their leadership in sponsoring the move.

"You are on the eve of a great step forward if you incorporate," Ayres declared, but added that it was important to have the right men at the head of the government.

He emphasized the importance of Truckee being prepared to receive the thousands of tourists who are expected to pass through here next year to the San Francisco Exposition.

Other speakers included Frank Campbell, Washoe County assessor and president of the Reno Lions; J. B. O'Brien, Reno Funeral home director and William Gardiner, prominent Reno attorney. Several others, including Coroner L. R. Jefford and A. R. Curneen, candidate for superintendent of schools in Nevada County and Senator John Foy of Reno, also spoke briefly.

Fish Program To Be Featured At Chamber Meeting

Sportsmen Asked to Attend Monday Meeting To Make Plans

LOCAL MONEY PROBLEM

Chamber is Asked to Take Task of Providing Town's Share

A weighty subject, one concerning all local interests will be taken up at the meeting of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce at the Truckee Coffee Shop Monday when it will be determined whether the chamber will cooperate with the San Francisco Flycasting Club this year in rearing fish to be planted in the river.

Since the demise of the Truckee River Sportsmen's Association, the matter of raising funds to meet a like amount contributed by the club has been handled in a somewhat slipshod manner, a few individuals acting upon their own initiative to get the money for the feeding of the baby trout.

It has been requested that the chamber of commerce assume the task of raising Truckee's share of the fund, annually estimated at close to $500. This would give the program a definite footing and in view of the fact that the development of trout for planting is of vital interest tc the businessmen of Truckee, supporters of the chamber of commerce, it was pointed out that the task rightfully belongs there if anywhere.

All sportsmen an others interested in the project are urged to attend the meeting. President C. B. White will preside.

Fine Fishing On Truckee River Proven Sunday

While there are those who will tell you that fishing on the Truckee river aint what it should be, this story would not go over with Mrs. Mary Roquette of Truckee or with E. E. Valverde and Walter Tallman of Reno.

Mrs. Roquette spent less than an hour on the river east of here and was rewarded with two Loch Leven, the smallest weighing in at four and three quarters pounds and its mate at even five pounds.

Valverde and Tallman took a couple of hours off Monday and after coaxing the fish with a few savory worms, came into town to display four fish, all Rainbows, totaling 21 pounds. Just to make it a perfect day, they also had two Lochs that weighed one and a quarter pounds.

So don't let them tell you that fishing isn's so hot—it's really better than usual.

Suspect Wanted In Reno By Police Is Nabbed By Officer

HAD EVADED ARREST

Wanted On Several Charges, Local Officer Told By Police

After eluding officers in Reno, Placerville and other towns, Randolph Booth, 23, alias William King, wanted by Reno police on several felony charges, was apprehended in Truckee Wednesday morning by Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley and turned over to the Nevada authorities.

Booth, whose car had been registered in Truckee to William King, is said by officers to be wanted for writing bad checks, burglary and robbery.

Last Saturday his car was sighted by an El Dorado county officer at Placerville and pursuit was made. The evasive Booth, however, out distanced his pursuer and escaped.

From a description obtained from Reno police, Dolley's suspicions were aroused when he saw Booth on the street here Wednesday. He questioned him and although the suspect denied his identity, the officer continued the investigation. Booth finally told the deputy that he was already in custody and that the sheriff of El Dorado was waiting at a service station on Main street for him. Dolley accompanied the suspect to the station and was then advised by Booth that the sheriff had gone to Reno to see what charges had been filed against him there.

Dolley disbelieved the story and held the suspect while he confirmed his suspicion with a telephone call to Reno police. He was advised to maintain a sharp watch on the man until the Nevada officers arrived to return him to Reno and Booth was held in jail here temporarily.

THE MAN IN THE MIDDLE

Ever notice the man in the middle? He's the new "grin and take it" man of the American scene.

Consider taxes! The little fellow pays some and the big fellow pays a lot, but it's the man in the middle that gets the biggest part of the bill. He owns a house, he buys a car, he starts a business—and on each he gives his cut in taxes, a cut that is proportionately larger than that of any other group.

And what does he get in return? Of the billions spent by local, state and federal governments, the man in the middle gets the least. True he does share in the protection, education and control activities of the government. But when it comes to the billions for relief and assistance, it's the big fellow and the little fellow that get the lion's share. The man in the middle takes care of himself.

And th story goes on. The little fellow gets free medical attention. The man in the middle has to pay—$10 for an X-ray, $100 for an operation. The little fellow gets other free services. The man in the middle has to pay his bills, bills that have to come out of the weekly pay check.

Ever notice the man in the middle? You ought to, he's the backbone of American life, and there's a mighty good chance that he looks a lot like you.

CHINA LOOKS UP

With the score now reading "one million dead and one million still fighting on the Lunghai Line", China and Japan go on playing the old game of war. After more than 300 days of bitter warfare, after a million deaths and a billion in losses, after starvation, murder, disease, pain, slaughter and suffering—the game still goes on.

For Japan, the long war is a surprise, an unwanted surprise.

For China, the long war is a vindication of their new spirit of nationalism, their will to become a nation. With the Eighth Route Army fighting under the walls of Peking where the war began, with the ranks of young China holding off the invader on the Lunghai Railroad, the Chinese have reason to look up toward the future.

For the rest of the world, the long war is a lesson, a lesson that modern warfare, swift and certain in destruction, may yet last as long as the old battle of hand and arm.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement month again flings wide the great gates leading from the campuses of America's high schools and Colleges,

And along that broad highway youth's legions, hunrders of thousands strong, march forth this June into the stern and earnest world where men must work for their daily bread, their security and their happiness.

The valedictorians may have skeptical things to say of the world they and their classmates are entering. The goal and cherished hope of nearly every youth, the hallmark and the gauge of his success is work. But seldom has the competition for that precious prize, a job, been more gruelling or more anxiously waged.

A little over a generation ago, there were 100,000 youngsters in our country's high schools. Today there are 6,000,000! In the last 50 years our population has increased by two and one half times, but our high school population has multiplied approximately 60 times! The economic uncertainties of the last eight years have also contributed their difficulties.

But the courage and confidence of youth in the face of these obstacles is more than to be praised and honored. It should, and must, accomplish something more. Let it arouse all citizens to aid actively in maintaining that confidence and courage by seeking to provide our young people, as far as we are able, with the work, encouragement and self-confidence they need.

Then commencement will truly signify the beginning—the start of a new life for youth in a world that takes pains to show it wants and needs youth.

A Surprise for the Folks!

Politically Speaking

by John W. Dunlap
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, June 2—(UP)—Campaign mimeographs are working over time these days as the administration and its critics cuss and discuss the subject of the state gasoline tax.

There's nothing new in the three-cent tariff on each gallon of gasoline. No one can kick much on the tax when the state builds and maintains such a fine highway system and parcels back a goodly share of the revenue to cities and counties.

But the fun began with rumors that the tax might be raised one cent. That's a red flag in the eyes of many persons—particularly politically minded opponents of Governor Frank F. Merriam, who seized the chance to link administration with a plot to milk more millions from the pee-pul.

Apparently no one noticed when H. R. Judah, chairman of the state highway commission, made occasional suggestions in northern counties that one way to get funds to repair the flood-damaged highways would be to raise the gasoline tax one cent. It remained for Edward J. Neron, assistant director of public works, to stick his foot into trouble.

Neron returned from a swing through the north and casually remarked for publication that highway-minded groups thought it would be a good idea to raise the gas tax and repair roads. His emphasis that somebody else suggested the increase was not very pronounced, with the result that upon him descended the wrath of automobile clubs, motorists, administration wheelhorses—and, unfortunately for Neron, the politicians.

Lt. Gov. George J. Hatfield climbed the rostrum with the heaviest barrage against the administration. He charged the department of public works with "mending political fences" instead of buliding highways and remarked that "if the department of public works needs more money for highway construction, it should fire some of its political workers and hire highway workers."

Fro mthere Hatfield branched out with varied accusations that the department had special duties devoting virtually their full time to political activities, that department publicity men were turning out propaganda esigned to insure the reeelction of the present governor and that road funds have been allocated to specific projects and then mysteriously diverted during an election year, to more politcally powerful communities.

Hatfield chose to ignore several factors.

Most important was that neither the governor nor Kelly changes the

CAL-VADA READY FOR BIG OPENING AT TAHOE JUNE 12

CRYSTAL BAY, June 2.— An air of festive activity prevades every corner of newly remodled Cal-Vada, popular midnight playground of the multitude, overlooking Tahoe's sparkling blue waters and snow crested peaks. Extensive alterations, redecorating and refurnishing have lent a softening allure to the rambling, low-ceilinged rooms with their deep scarlet plush carpeting and subtle lighting effects.

After weeks of costly preparation, Cal-Vada is ready for its formal gala opening on Thursday, June 9, and Saturday, June 11—two days being set aside this season to accomodate the hundreds who could not find seating space last year. No expense has been spared to create for this lofty vacation land one of the most beautiful and thoroughly entertaining spots in the west. There is diversion for everyone, an inovation being the games in charge of Cope Copeland, who was with Buckhorn last summer.

The spacious grounds around Cal-Vada have been graded and this year will offer four times as much parking space for cars as last season.

Exclusive also at Cal-Vada is Wes Mullen's newly installed Hammond electric organ which will furnish accompaniment for singers and the orchestra. The nimble fingers of the artist of syncopation can stir one to heights of gaity or solemnity, according to his mood of the moment. Lynn Fredericks, sweet-voiced songstress of last season, will be assisted in the vocals by Leo Carder, silvery tenor of San Jose, Reno and other points.

The new dining room and coffee shop will be operated by Bob Ganshorn of Hunters Lodge, Carson, under the direction of Pete and Tony of Club Fortune fame. The fine foods will be available for reasonable price.

Andy Johnson, popular resident of King's Beach and publicity director of the newly organized North Tahoe Sports club, is now in charge of the office.

Listen for the scintillating rhythms of Wes Mullen on his famous Hammond electric organ, which he has just transported from Sun Valley, where he completed a two-year engagement, the songs of Lynn Fredericks and Leo Carde during Cal-Vada's broadcast over KOH form 5 until 5:30 p. m., June 7 and 8.

A hearty welcome awaits at the opening of Cal-Vada Lodge from the genial hosts Johnny Rayburn and Fred Reiselt.

Advertise it in the Sierra Sun.

Worden persiding as Mrs. Phoebe Darlin, the club secertary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. A committee of three, Mrs. Simmonds Mrs. Duffee and Mrs. Valentine was appointed to pass on new members, the latest of whom are Mrs. Dianne Grover and Mrs. Jack Malcolm, who joined last week. A meeting and dinner for members will be given on June 9 at the Simmonds home at 1 p. m. Beautiful weather is again prevailing at Tahoe with spring runoff continuing unabated, highways in spots under water where creek banks fail to hold. Hog Pen Hill keeps in the spotlight, as snow continues to melt. The lake level stands now at 6227.60. The peak of the rise in the lake is estimated by W. A. Simmonds and his associates at around 6228.8, although this could be exceeded if the vicinity receives unusual warm spring rains. In many places cat walks arebeing built out over the regular pier floors which have dropped out of sight.

Norman Mayfield reports a pickup in the building field with the A. J Evers jog at Rubican Beachwell under way and work being started this week at Crystal Bay on the beautiful 10-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Quinn of San Francisco and that of Eward Hills of similar size near Cal-Vada Lodge.

Mrs. Flora Hunkins was reported seriously ill at her home in Tahoe City on Monday with infection.

Tahoe school children were given an unexpected treat one evening last week when a traveling circus, in miniature, was given in the local school auditorium. Monkeys and snakes performed, the former having to be pulled forcibly from their roller skates before they would stop. Much authentic information was gleaned by children and grownups alike during the enjoyable evening.

It was learned here last week that Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Oliver Berry became the proud parents of a baby daughter weighing 9 pounds, 9 ounces in the Auburn hospital on May 25. The baby was reported doing nicely, but the mother was not showing the satisfactory results expected.

Two More Candidates Announce For Nevada County Offices

ARTHUR HELLINGS ENTERS RACE FOR COUNTY CLERK JOB

Following requests from all parts of the county, Arthur F. "Art" Hellings, widely known and respected resident of Grass Valley, announced this week that he would be a candidate for the office of county clerk of Nevada County at the August 31 primary election.

In aspiring for the office, held to be one of the most important in the county, Hellings is backed with a liberal and formal education; wide spread and friendly relationship with the electorate over a long period of years and an acquaintance with the county affairs by reason of more than three years as a county officer.

He went to Grass Valley to make his home 31 years ago and with the exception of a term as deputy under former sheriff George Carter, was engaged in the mining industry as a worker, foreman and shift boss, taking employment at the Allison ranch Golden Center and for a considerable recent period at the Empire mine.

Hellings possesses a faculty of making quick and lasting friendships and it is said that throughout his entire experience he has not made an enemy.

He has been a close observer of trends and policies in the efficient function of local government and believes he posseses the qualifications which will make an efficient, reliable and courteous public servant. He says he can fill the office and care for the duties thereof with credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers.

JEFFORD WILL RUN TO SUCCEED SELF IN CORONER POST

L. R. "Bob" Jefford, who this week announced that he would be a candidate to succeed himself for the office of coroner of Nevada County, needs no introduction in Truckee. Jefford is one of the most frequent visitors of the official family in this district where he has scores of friends.

In announcing his intention to be a candidate Jefford said he would run on a platform of promises fulfilled and efficiency. He has held the job successfully for the past four years.

There are few offices in the county government where the duties entail so much detailed and unlimited work. During his administration, the incumbent has maintained the office with minimum expense, often foregoing expenses provided, but nevertheless keeping his office high in efficiency and with strict adherence to detail. The annual allotment for the coroner's office is fixed at $1500. Never has Jefford used this amount but each year returns several hundred dollars to the board of supervisors accompanied by a true and accurate report of money expended in maintaining the office.

One saving which he makes each year is the $50 provided for his attendance at conventions. He reports he has never used this money, but turns it back into the county coffers.

The incumbent has been a resident of Grass Valley since 1927, during which time he has conducted the W. R. Jefford and Son Funeral Home. He is married and has a young daughter. Jefford is one of the most progressive residents of his city and has contributed much through his willingness to cooperate in matters of civic and county development. He has not allowed his interests to be entirely with the western end of the county but is generous in his support of this region as well.

BUSINESS ON UPTREND

SACRAMENTO, June 2.— As a further indication that business conditions in California are on the uptrend, Ro yS. Stockton, chief of the California State Employment Service, division of the state department of employment, this week announced a 24 per centin crease in placements for the month of April over March and a corresponding 22 per cent drop in applications for work throughout the state.

W. W. HALE WINS PROMOTION

Appointment of W. W. Hale as general traffic manager of Southern Pacific Company, Texas and New Orleans Railroad Company and Southern Pacific Steamship Lines, effective June 1, with headquarters at Chicago, was announced this week through Southern Pacific'c local office.

Military Strategists Plot New Moves

General Genovevo Guillen, left, commander-in-chief of the Mexican Government forces, confers with General Manuel Camacho, secretary of war, as Federal troops are deployed in San Luis Potosi in an effort to wipe out guerrilla fighters of the revolutionist, General Cedillo.

STREAMLINED AUXILIARY EQUIPMENT IS LATEST ASSOCIATED DEVELOPMENT

Streamlined auxiliary equipment for modern streamlined service stations is the latest development of Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Associated Division, construction engineers.

The era of the awkward and ugly fueling cart has passed, according to B. G. Brown, Associated construction and maintenance superintendent, being supplanted by the up-to-date tear-drop gasoline buggy.

Compact and mobile, Associated's new fueling auxiliary is designed to take care of peak-hour servicing in busy stations, where volume gallonage sales are made. It is particulary applicable at stations where property space is limited and pump installation expansion is not possible, Brown states.

Wore Prince Alberts

In the "nifty nineties," most United States senators wore Prince Alberts. The frock coat was a symbol of statesmanship and a beard was the mark of a man of maturity and substance.

233,655 COMPENSATION CHECKS DURING APRIL

SACRAMENTO, June 2.— Unemployed workers of California who are subject to the Unemployment Reserves Act received 233,655 compensation checks during April, according to announcement made this week by John S. Horn, Los Angeles, representative of labor on the California Unemployment Reserves Commission.

Horn said these checks totaled $2,223,809.33, indicating distribution of this amount in all sections of the state.

"A total of $878,201.23 was sent to Los Angeles County alone, in 89,196 checks," Horn said.

"This two and a quarter million dollars is a large item in the business of California," he declared.

During April, a total of 776 checks, adding up to $9,284.97, were distributed by the Unemployment Reserves Commission in Nevada county.

NORDEN NEWS

Mrs. John Backarich of Oakland is visiting at the home of her sons, John William and Pete near Tunnel Six.

C. W. Kramer and family, Carl Nelson and Joseph Casari spent the Decoration Day holidays in the bay cities.

Spring has definitely arrived in these parts if the warmer weather the past several days has any significance and the heavy auto travel along the highway is any indication. The few bare spots to be found through the snow divulge tiny sprouts of flowers and bulbs coming through the ground. All plants are late for this time of season due to lateness of winter.

Alexander Ogilvie of Tunnel Six was an Oakland visitor among his relatives and friends over the holidays.

Chester Rowe with his family spent Decoration Day with relatives in Marysville as did William Dawdy.

Seeking higher education, Kirby Schull has spent several days of past months in and around College of the Pacific at Stockton.

Oliver Fong of B and B 113 at Tunnel Six was in the capital city last week end on business.

To be with his family in Tunnel Six Oakes Hensley came up from Wheatland.

Harold McRae, telegrapher of the Southern Pacific Company at Norden was called to El Paso, Texas, for two months agency work.

August Awischus of Tunnel Six was a delegate to labor conventions held in Sacramento Sunday.

Account having a serious problem on his hands Joseph Peters has remained above board the past two weeks when leaving town for any cause whatscever.

Jesse Tilson thoroughly enjoyed his visit among relatives in Oakland recently.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

gasoline tax, but an act by the legislature and a vote by the electorate.

Another was the almost daily denials by state officials that the administration contemplated anything bu economy, certainly no gas tax perspired when Kelly's answer to boost The mimeographs must have Hatfield was printed.

Bright and early the next morning after Hatfield made his charges, Kelly branded him as "a cheap politician."

"It ill behooves a candidate running for the high and dignified office of governor of the great state of aCalifornia," Kelly said, "when he has nothing sound or constructive to offer on his own behalf, to use the tactics of a cheap politician to berate the friends of his opponent and to attempt to disparage the success of his opponent's administration."

Looking at the financial aspect, the addition of one cent to the tax would return approximately $35,000,000, based on current revenues. Collections on the three-cent tax during the present biennium were $105,000,000, which settled down to $94,500,000 for apportionment after refunds and collection expenses were deducted. This was distributed $31,500,000 to counties and $63,000,000 to the state.

But the damaging effect of Neron's chance statement cannot be underestimated. There is no laughing away the heated attacks from powerful southern California and California state automobile associations. A lot of newspaper readers chuckled at caustic cartoons and editorials. There has been plenty of inner-office discussion atop Capitol hill. Merriam supporters growled in their whiskers up and down the state.

If there is such a thing as a political doghouse, it's a 50-50 bet that the word "Neron" would be tacked below the doorbell.

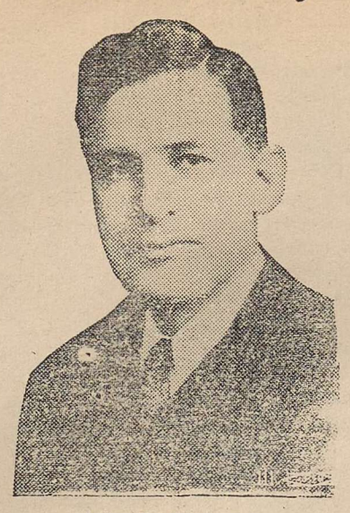
PREPARING FOR FAIR——

Sacramento, June 2—(UP)— Preparation of agricultural exhibits for the State Fair, September 2 to 11, has begun in at least a half a dozen counties. About 40 exhibits will be represented at the fair.

Counties now preparing their exhibits include Humbolt, Alameda, Sutter, Calaveras, Amador and Yolo.

The state department of agriculture now has an artist at work on painted backgrounds for the exhibits.

Obtains Survey



John F. Dockwieler

A flood control survey by the U. S. Army Engineers for the Truckee River and its tributaries was included in the omnibus flood control bill recently passed Congress, according to a special dispatch to the Sierra Sun from Congressman John F. Dockwieler, D., Los Angeles. 16 California projects were included in the bill as a part of the $375,000,000 expenditure authorized for the surveys.

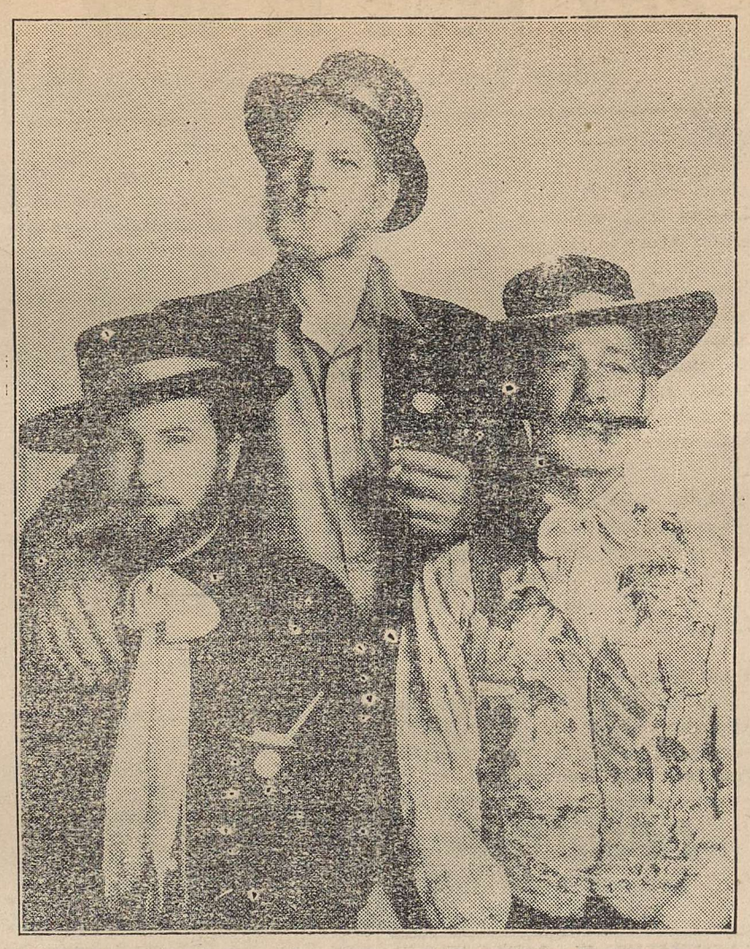
190 OUT OF STATE WARDS ARE RETURNED TO HOMES BY CALIFORNIA AUTHORITIES

Sacramento, June 2—(UP)—Conforming to an established policy, state director of institutions Harry Lutgen has returned to their homes in other states, 190 mental patients and youthful offenders who have been committed within the past year to California state hospitals and correctional institutions.

The majority were from Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas.

Lutgens said a considerable saving is effected in this fashion. Average cost of deportation is about $100 per person, while the institutional cost is about $201 a year. He estmated the average mental patient remains in a state hospital about 10 years.

READY FOR GOLD RUSH



The whole town of Auburn is wearing whiskers in preparation for the Gold Rush Revival. Helldorado opens on Saturday night. Pictured above are Ray Dorer, E dWilcoxon and Bill Wakefield, three of the whiskered funmakers. You will be stepping into a land of romance and will have something different to remember of the days when California was not yet a state. Auburn June 3, 4 and 5.

Sacramento, June 2—(UP)—Pheasant brooding projects were started at Redding and Fresno, the state departmene of natural resources has announced.

Four hundred and twenty pheasant chicks were distributed to both the Fresno and Redding state game reserves.

CALIFORNIA SAID TO BE ONLY WESTERN STATE TO PAY ITS OWN WAY IN 1937

California, according to the Sacramento Union, is the only state west of the Mississippi that pays its own way. It isn't overlookin a thing, however, when it comes to getting back from the U. S. its share of money it pays into the Treasury.

As of September 30, 1937, this state has received in WPA work the equivalent of $251,935,020 Only four states —New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Ohio--did better.

Of this $44,428,000 went for highways, $26,635,000 for public buildings, $25,095,000 for recreational facilities, $25,606,000 for conservation, $25,504,024 for sewers, $11,438,364 for transportation, $43,782,535 for 'white collar' work $37,851,313 for sewing and allied work $2,334,136 for sanitation and health, and $9,747,582 for miscellaneous projects.

This represents part of the 83 per cent that California gets back from what she pays in federal taxes. The remaining 17 per cent is part of the attempts of paying states to balance the federal budget.

Mateo Hernandez Netro, ex-governor of the state of San Luis Potosi, who reportedly has escaped after a "friendly" conference with President Cardenas and joined forces with General Cedillo in the Mexican revolution.

TOO MANY BUREAUS CAUSE CONFUSION TO CALIFORNIA . . . BUSINESSMAN, TAXPAYER

Sacramento, June2—Only the State Department of Employment is authorized to receive Unemployment Fund contributions and wage reports from employers, W. F. French, Chief of the Division of Unemployment Compenration, announced today.

French said his announcement was the result of many employers sending quarterly contributions to the Unemployment Fund to the Sales Tax Division of the State Board of Equalization.

delay in mailing the same to Sacramento.

During the past several weeks a large number of unemployment compensation checks and wage reports have been transmitted to the Department of Employment from the Sales Tax Division. French said that while eventually the reports are received in the Department of Employment office they are likelyto be late, with consequent interest penalties assessed for

The adress of the State Division of Employment is 1025 P Street in Sacramento, California.

There are 102 emergency workers in the county of which 99 are men and three women. Under the heading of partly employed are 209 persons including 188 men and 21 women. According to the 1930 census there were 10,596 persons residing in this county of which 5,940 were male and 4,656 were female.

For the entire state the number of totally unemployed was 258,750 which is about the size of the city of Oakland.
